AWIS Scholarship Program

Come congratulate and honor our 2010 AWIS Scholarships Winners and hear from previous winners. Since 1990, the Seattle Chapter of the Association for Women in Science has presented scholarships each year to women pursuing undergraduate degrees in science, mathematics and engineering.

Speakers:

Juliane Gust received an AWIS scholarship for her senior year at the University of Washington (UW). She graduated in 2003 with a B.S. in neurobiology and is currently enrolled in the UW Medical Scientist Training Program (MD/Ph.D. program). Juliane has completed the first two years of medical school and is in her final year of her neurobiology and behavior Ph.D. program. She will then return to medical school for two more years, followed by a residency and a career in academic medicine.

April Hunziker received an AWIS scholarship for her senior year at UW. She graduated in 2008 with a B.S. in microbiology and received the University of Washington Erling J. Ordal Award for research in microbiology. After participating in a one year Centers for Disease Control Emerging Infectious Diseases Laboratory Training Fellowship, April began medical school at the University of Washington. She is now beginning her second year of medical school and plans to become a primary care physician.
